RULES AND REGULATIONS

College Tries to Make Life Pleasant And Agreeable for Those Who Come Here Seeking an Education.

For the information of persons who expect to enroll as students of the College and of the parents of such students, that they may know what the College expects, the following summary of student regulations is submitted.

Living Standards.

The following living standards have been established by the Student Welfare Committee of the Faculty and the Student Council:

1. Students may expect quiet and cleanliness in their rooming house; a reasonable use of the general reception room for their callers; rooms warmed to a sufficient temperature in the spring and fall as well as in winter; hot water for bathing at reasonable times; rooms always lighted sufficiently for study purposes.

2. Householders may expect that students will be quiet and orderly in their conduct, take due care of the furniture and premises, be economical in the use of lights, be reasonable in their requests for privileges, make definite arrangements for any special privilege desired, and observe the study hour of the college stated below.

3. Rooms should be engaged for a full term. If a change seems necessary during the term, the student should consult the Dean of Women in regard to the change.

4. Each rooming place must have a responsible person continually in charge.

5. Young women will room in homes where only young women are kept. Likewise young men will room in homes only where young men are kept.

6. Women students must not lodge in a house where there is not a general reception room in which they may receive their callers.

Hours.

It is expected that quiet hours will be observed in all houses from 8 p. m. to 6 a. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday; from 10:30 p. m. to 6 a. m. on Friday and Saturday, and from 10 p. m. on Sunday.

From November 1 to April 1 women students must be in their rooming places not later than 10 o'clock on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday nights, and not later than 10:30 on Friday and Saturday nights. From April 1 to November 1, the 10:30 hour will prevail through the week. Any permission for later hours must be arranged for with the householder before six p. m.

Dates.

Women students may receive calls from men or attend social functions with them on Friday, Saturday, or Sunday nights. One mid-week date is allowed. Dates must not, however, exceed a total of three a week. A "date" shall be interpreted to mean an evening call from a man or an evening social engagement out of the house after 8 o'clock, with or without a man. College games and parties in which the whole school participates shall be exceptions to the date rules.

Other Exceptions.

Attendance at any religious meeting shall not be interpreted as a date. A visit to the public library for the purpose of study shall not be interpreted as a date.

Attendance at credit, non-credit, or discussion groups which meet for educational purposes, shall not be considered as a date. Provided that the engagement terminate as soon after the close of the meeting as is possible for the student to reach home.

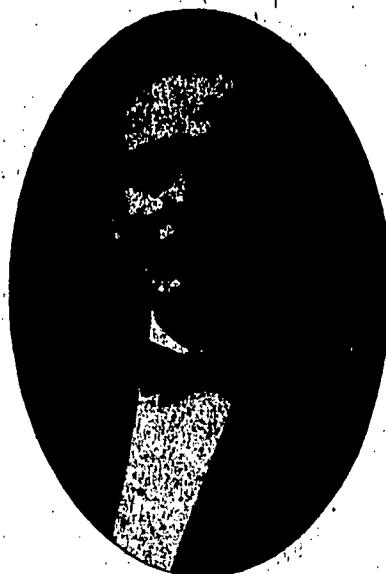

Students leaving town for the usual week-end visit shall be credited with two dates and will, therefore, be entitled to either a Sunday night date or one mid-week date, but not both.

Miscellaneous.

Any activity of the college that is not to be considered a date will be posted each week by the Dean of Women on the bulletin board outside her office, room 226.

It further requests that home-keepers report to the Dean of Women any irregular or questionable conduct of the students in their homes.

During the college year no student or group of students may give or attend a dance in Maryville which is thrown open to the public at a fixed price.

President of the College

MORE LANGUAGE COURSES OFFERED

Courses in Latin, French, and Spanish Give Students Chance for Work in Language.

More advanced courses in foreign languages are to be offered this summer at the college than ever before. Miss Blanche Dow, who has been attending Columbia University while on a leave of absence, will be back. She will offer French 165 which will be a study of the 17th Century Theatre in France, and a course in The Teaching of French in High School that is listed as French 140 on the schedule.

Miss Martin will offer a special course in French Phonetics that will be particularly an advanced course for students majoring or minoring in the department. All students wishing to take this course must see Miss Martin, or get special permission, before signing for the course.

Miss Terhune is offering courses in beginning Spanish and beginning French. There will also be two sections in both second year Spanish and second year French offered this summer.

With Miss Dow, Miss Terhune and Miss Martin in the French and Spanish departments, all requests in these subjects can be easily met.

All students desiring courses in Latin should see Mr. Hawkins relative to the work that they wish to do in that department this summer.

When possible, courses will be organized to suit the needs of the students.

Library Prepared to Meet Your Needs

The library at the College serves a two-fold purpose inasmuch as it is a place for research and reference work and also a study room for the College students. The library is not a place for recreation, but a place for work, and consequently unnecessary noises are forbidden.

This summer, Mr. C. E. Wells, librarian, will have a full sized force of workers on the staff all of the time to serve the many students who will wish to use the library for reference work. The library will be open from 7 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock in the evening during the school days and from 11 o'clock until 5 o'clock on Saturdays.

The College library contains thousands of bound volumes and several thousand pamphlets, periodicals, magazines, and newspapers.

The students this summer are asked to request of the librarians what books they wish instead of hunting for the book themselves. By doing this it is hoped that unnecessary confusion may be avoided.

All of the books in the library are catalogued and an index is kept of all the authors, title, and subject of the book. The information in the magazines may be found by consulting the readers' guide and the other indexes in the library. A fine is assessed for the violation of the time limit which is fixed on the books taken from the library.

Advices Lab. Work

Mr. Cauffield emphasizes to those students who are going to take geography work, the value of taking laboratory courses. Many students shun laboratory courses but this is not as it should be, because foundation for higher work is laid in a laboratory course.

Miss Stowell announces that Redwood Hall is full for the summer quarter.

College Offers New Course in Education

Problems of Advisers of Girls in High School will be one of the interesting courses in education that will be offered this summer. Dean Edith A. Barnard who has given similar classes at Teachers' College in Columbia University and who has had extensive training and experience in this kind of work, will be the instructor of the course.

At a meeting of the State Association of Deans of Women and Girls last fall in Kansas City, the members went on record with a recommendation that every high school in the state of Missouri have a trained person to act as girls' adviser. Because of the great need for such persons in the high schools, the College is offering this course, which is designed to train teachers for this position. This course is scheduled as Education 155 and a course in Adolescence, Ed. 121, should either precede or accompany the course in Problems of Advisers of Girls in High School.

Ivory Statuettes Are Praised by Soap Firm

Considerable interest has been aroused in the soap sculpture done in the art classes taught by Miss Olive DeLuce. The latest news the Courier is able to get is a letter received by Miss DeLuce from the Procter and Gamble Company, the makers of Ivory Soap, which was used by the students doing the sculpture.

The letter reads: "Dear Miss DeLuce: Mr. Townsend Godsey has sent us a photograph of four Ivory statuettes that are as interesting and beautiful as any we have seen. We could not deny ourselves the pleasure of saying so to you and through you to the students who modeled them."

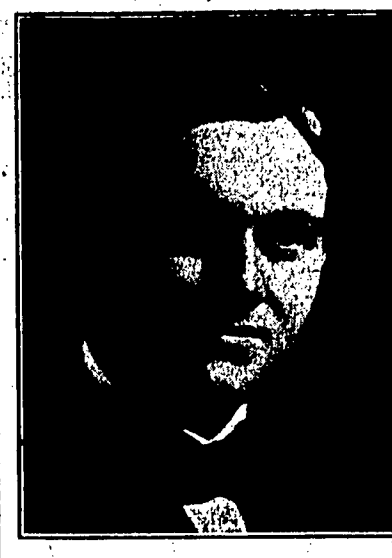

The letter further states that there will be a contest next year in soap sculpture and urges Miss DeLuce to have the work of her students entered, adding "We certainly should encourage you in developing such talent."

Practice Teaching

Any students desiring to do practice teaching during the summer or fall quarter should make arrangements for this work as soon as possible.

There is room for three practice teachers for observation and practice teaching in the Garrett School, three miles south of S. T. C. Apply to Mr. Phillips, Room 201.

There is an opportunity for practice teaching in grades 1-6, hours 8-12 a. m., at the Franklin school. Students must hold two successive hours open. See either Miss Paxton or Miss Smith, Room 201.

S. T. C. ENTERS ITS 19th YEAR

Two Hundred and Six Students At First Session—Service Keynote for Future Years.

Nineteen years ago this month the first session of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, then a state normal school, was held. Two hundred and six students were enrolled.

Today students from Northwest Missouri, adjoining counties and adjoining states, more than fifteen hundred of them are pouring into Maryville for the nineteenth summer session. Last summer's enrollment was 1561 and equally as many are expected this year.

The first session of the Normal school was held in the Maryville High School building in the summer of 1906 with Frank Deerwester as its first president. The first fall term had a total enrollment of 186 students.

On October 12, 1907, fitting ceremonies which were witnessed by one of the largest crowds ever assembled in Maryville, gathered to witness the laying of the cornerstone. The principal address was delivered by Hon. Joseph W. Folk, then governor of Missouri and was followed by C. J. Colden, then president of the Board of Regents. Until completion of the new building, classes were held in the Seminary building, which had formerly been used as a private school. In 1917 the Fiftieth General Assembly of Missouri passed a law that changed the name of the Normal School to that of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College.

The College enters upon its nineteenth year with a feeling of just gratification for its past achievements in the educational world. The faculty and administration, of the past and present, feels they have served well the people of Northwest Missouri.

In looking towards the future the responsibility for educational service pushes into the background any feeling of just gratification for past attainments. With this responsibility constantly in mind this institution will constantly seek to make Northwest Missouri a better place in which to live by loyally and faithfully serving its educational needs.

One of Your Duties

One of the first duties of a student of S. T. C. is to learn the words of the college song, "Alma Mater." College should mean much to you, should really be a "foster mother" to you. If you are to become a part of the life of S. T. C. be happy to lift your voice in her praise and sing with those who love it—

ALMA MATER

Let your voices loudly ring
Echo far and near,
Songs of praise thy children sing
To thy mem'ry dear.

Years may dim our recollection,
Time its change may bring,
Still thy name in fond affection,
Evermore we sing.

CHORUS

Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
Tender, fair, and true;
Grateful sons, with love unfeigned,
All their vows renew.

Harvey Bush, who has been supervising music in the school of La Junta, Colorado, has arrived home and will attend College this summer. Mr. Bush finished the 60-hour course in music supervision last year.

MISSOURI, I LOVE THEE

Mrs. B. B. Bigham.

Missouri, I love thy broad rolling plains,
Thy fields waving softly with many-hued grains
Which billow and roll like the vast surging sea,
Now gently, now wildly—compelling, yet free.

I love thee, Missouri,
I love thy sweet grasses curtaining low to the breeze,
Thy herds grazing peacefully beneath stately trees,

Thy hills and hollows, thy nooks and thy dales,
Thy flower-flecked meadows, thy deep winding trails.

Missouri, I love thee,
Missouri, I love thy blue arching skies,
Thy sweet-singing birds and thy gay butterflies

Dancing lightly from daisy to fragrant red clover,
To the humbler bee's humming as he flies swiftly over.

I love thee, Missouri,
I love thy broad rivers on whose curving banks
Great trees lift their arms as if giving God thanks

For placing them here, where the moon's silver beams
Turn the days bitter longing to sweet tender dreams.

Missouri, I love thee,
Missouri, in no state is more beauty found,
No better cattle, no more fertile ground,

No better orchards and on better ore,
If a man wishes Paradise, what could he ask more?

I love thee, Missouri,

The College requests that cases of illness among the students be reported immediately by the home-keepers to the Dean of Women, preferably between nine and eleven a. m.

For Agri. Students

Mr. Kinnard offers an interesting course in Breeds of Livestock. This is a laboratory course and those taking it will not be able to take any other course in the afternoon, as it will use much of the time. Trips to many live-stock farms will be taken, at least two per week.

Mr. Kinnard says that this will be an intensely interesting course and advises all students of agriculture to take it if possible. A detailed study of the breeds of animals will be made.

Mr. Partch Returns '26

Mr. Lamkin has received word that Mr. Partch has successfully passed the examination for his Doctor's Degree at Harvard and that he has been appointed instructor in the graduate school of education there for next year.

Mr. Partch has been granted an additional leave of absence in order to stay at Harvard and complete his residence requirement for his degree. He will return to S. T. C. for the summer of 1926.

Women students wishing to be away from their rooming place over night should inform the householder of their destination. Those wishing to leave town, except for the usual home visit, should consult with the Dean of Women regarding their plans.

Nature Study Outlined

The course in Nature Study (Biology 11), as given in the Spring and to be given in the Summer Term, has the following general outline: 20 laboratory studies under the direction of an assistant, 7 illustrated lectures and 3 field trips, under the direction of Mr. Leeson.

The lecture topics are: birds songs, revelations of the microscope, ornamental planting, language of the flowers, mosses and mushrooms, rocks—eternal, stars—eternal, and trees—immortal.

Summer Music Faculty Calls for Ag. Teachers

Several teachers have been added to the faculty of the College Conservatory of Music to take care of the increased attendance during the summer quarter. Mrs. Edwin F. Caldwell, of Burlington Junction, a graduate of the piano department of Northwestern University of Music, is assisting in the piano department this summer. Price Doyle, B. S., 1924, who has been Supervisor of Public School Music at Concord, North Carolina, for the past year, is an assistant in the public school music work during the summer.

Mr. Herbert Gray, an instructor in the University School of Music at Lincoln, Nebraska, is in charge of the violin department of the conservatory for the summer.

Miss Gladys Andrews, who was granted a leave of absence during the spring quarter because of her serious illness, has returned to Maryville and has resumed her work in the children's department of the conservatory.

Miss Esther McQueen, who has been substituting for Miss Andrews during her absence has returned to Kansas City, where she will continue work in the Littlefield School of Music.

Home Economics

The home economics department is offering the following courses this summer:

Principles of Sewing—Home Ec. 12.
Elementary Clothing—Home Ec. 13.
Foods—Home Ec. 21.
Home Nursing—Home Ec. 61.
Food Problems—Home Ec. 71a.
Meal Service—Home Ec. 80.
Textiles—Home Ec. 155.
Household Sanitation—Home Ec. 161.
Practice Teaching—Home Ec. 172b.
No prerequisites are required for the courses in Meal Service, Principles of Sewing, Elementary Clothing, and Home Nursing. All of these courses are very practical and are things which should be most helpful to all students. They may be chosen as electives by anyone who is not taking Home Economics as a major or minor subject.

The Meal Service course, which is offered by Miss Irene Teagarden this summer is a special feature of the home economics work. This course is open not only to college students but to women of the city who care to take advantage of up-to-date instruction along this line. The class will meet from 10 to 12 o'clock.

Calls for Ag. Teachers

The demand for qualified teachers of Agriculture always has exceeded the supply. Perhaps that is the reason for the higher salaries paid to agriculture teachers. There is real need for more students to study Agriculture.

Every rural teacher should take one or more courses in Vitalized Agriculture. In the summer quarter Mr. Stanfield will offer one course and Mr. Cooper will offer two courses in Vitalized Agriculture. The Vitalized Agriculture course will cover, in a practical way, the work in agriculture outlined in the State Course of Study for next year.

For those who wish to enlarge their knowledge of crops and soils, either or both, Cereal Crops—Agriculture 11, and Soils—Agriculture 103 are available. Both courses are required by the State Department for those who would teach high school Agriculture. They are open to others as well.

Agriculture 155, "Teaching High School Agriculture," is a methods course in high school Agriculture. Those who have taken it have found it valuable. It is to the high school teacher what Vitalized Agriculture is to the rural teacher.

The Social Sciences

The Social Science Department is offering sixteen different college courses for the summer quarter. Some one or more of these should appeal to practically every student preparing to teach. Such subjects as the Family, American Ideal, and Citizenship can not be omitted from a teacher's study if he is to be potent influence with young Americans. Membership in the Social Science Club will help equip one with ability to discuss and apply Social Science information.

Miss Lois K. Halley will assist in the Social Science Department during the summer quarter. Miss Halley was formerly of Nodaway County. She took her Masters Degree at the University of Chicago and has taught in Mississippi College during the past year.

Calls Music Teachers

Mr. Charles R. Gardner, dean of music, has received many calls for supervisors of music and has been able to fill only a few of these positions. The calls for teachers came from such places as Topeka, Kansas, and Saginaw, Michigan. Several of the 1925 graduates who specialized in public school music have been placed in excellent positions. Arthur Elmore will go to High Point, North Carolina, as supervisor of instrumental music. Leta Babb has been elected as supervisor of music at Maitland. Reba Kliser, a 60-hour graduate of this year, will supervise music in the school of Ellington, Kansas. Helen Mayfield, B. S. 1924, has been re-appointed as supervisor of music at Jefferson City.

Many English Courses

A larger number of advanced courses in English are being offered this summer than usual. Eight different courses are open to seniors and juniors who have had the specified prerequisites as printed in the catalogue. The course in American Literature of the Colonial Period is offered to summer students for the first time this quarter. The courses in English literature are the History of the English Language, The Romantic Movement, the Novel, Contemporary Drama, and Shakespeare's Plays. The course in the Teaching of English in the High School is open to students who have completed fifteen hours of college English.

The course in the History of American Literature and the "a" and "b" sections of the course in the History of English Literature may be taken for approved grades. The usual freshman work in composition will be offered and the course in Literature for the Elementary School.

Journalism 24 and 124 will be offered and are discussed under a separate head.

New Course Required

Mr. Leomis is offering a course in Adolescence which is a requirement of the new course. All those who expect to qualify as advisers of girls should take this.

He offers also Tests and Measurements, particularly for supervisors and administrators. The work will consist in handling data of the various school systems of the district. This course has proved popular in the past.

President Uel W. Lamkin and Mr. H. Frank Lawrence went to St. Louis Thursday night, May 28, where they attended a meeting of the college presidents and athletic directors, which was in session there Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Larson left Friday, May 29, for Lincoln, Nebraska, college for the summer quarter.

where Mr. Larson will take up his work in the school of music of the University of Nebraska. Mr. Larson has been

Dr. Thomas W. Nadal, president of Drury College, Springfield, who delivered the class address on Wednesday morning, May 27, was the guest of President and Mrs. Lamkin during his stay in Maryville. Dr. Nadal returned to Springfield Wednesday afternoon.

Private Lessons in Dramatics

The Northwest Missouri State Teachers College announces that arrangements have been made to offer private instruction to those interested in dramatics and public reading for the summer term. The purpose in offering private work is to give those interested in dramatics a chance to do more intensive work under direct supervision of an instructor.

This instruction is designed to develop personality, poise and power of expression of the individual by training in voice, vocal expression, pantomime and dramatic thinking. The course begins with fundamental exercises and short readings and progresses until larger and more difficult readings are studied.

The tuition will be the same as private lessons in the Conservatory of Music. One lesson per week for one quarter is $12.50; two lessons per week for one quarter is $25.00. The same credit system as in the Conservatory will prevail.

These private lessons will be given by Miss Laveta McClanahan of the College faculty. Special attention will be given to private lessons for students. Those interested in this work should see Miss McClanahan or telephone the College.
